

Csilla Kiss-Morrison

Csilla Kiss-Morrison, originally from Hungary, came to Canada in January of 2011. Csilla's background is in Journalism and she has a diploma from Budapest College of Communications and Business. She has spent a lot of time travelling and has lived in Holland as well as England. She has also worked in fashion, retail, on a cruise ship and was a customer advisor at a bank. In her free time Csilla enjoys creative writing, hot yoga, winter sports, running 5-10Km races, drawing and painting.

Csilla has been volunteering with CIWA since January 2012. She was originally teaching English to the seniors program but during her time here she has also done translation and interpretation. She currently holds orientation sessions for interpreters and works as a receptionist.

Csilla loves volunteering since it is a great experience and she gets the chance to meet new people from different backgrounds. She likes spending her time helping other people and at the same time, she is helping herself.

Csilla is a friendly, reliable and committed volunteer. She is very professional and always cooperative to help. She deals with our clients in a professional manner portraying CIWA to the best of her capacity, is resourceful and is very good at finding solutions to tough problems. She handles all kinds of calls with confidence and even if reception is busy, she is able to fulfill all other duties that need to be done with enthusiasm and energy.

With extreme gratitude, we are pleased to announce Csilla as the Volunteer of the Month for January 2013.
